Entered at the Kingman Postoffice as Second Class Mail.

Miss Eva Harris, who has been attending the Sisters school at Prescott, arrived home a few days ago.

Miss Viola Hoffman has been absent from the postoffice for a couple of days on account of the grippe.

Mrs. Hoffman, mother of Mrs. A. E. Ware, arrived in Kingman Thursday from her old home in Pennsylvania and will remain here for some time.

Mrs. S. S. Jones, who has been visiting in Los Angeles, arrived in Kingman Wednesday last and departed to her home in Oatman. Mr. Jones met her here.

O. A. Eshom, who went to Los Angeles a few weeks ago to have an operation performed, returned to Kingman early this week, the operation having been entirely successful.

Mr. Sheldon, an old timer of Mineral Park, was brought to the hospital last Monday in a very low condition. He has improved greatly during the week and his recovery is almost assured.

Miss Katherine Hunter arrived in Kingman this week from Missouri and will have charge of the millinery department in the new store of Nickell & Co., which will open up about the last of February.

C. F. Dutton, the well known post-office inspector, passed through Kingman Wednesday on his way to Goldroad and Oatman. He will probably visit all the postoffices in the county before returning to Phenix.

O. F. Kuencer, at one time a resident of Kingman, but now living in Pasadena, passed through here on his way to St. Louis, last Wednesday. He will stop off on his way home and make an examination of mining property.

P. B. Roberts, who has been clerking for Lovin & Withers Company for the past two years, has gone to San Diego where he expects to go into business for himself. Mr. Roberts made many friends while in Kingman.

The Indian appropriation bill this year carries with it 21,200$ for the Truxton Canyon Indian school, and 38,400$ for the Fort Mohave Indian school. These amounts are for the superintendent's pay and general maintenance of the school and necessary repairs and improvements.

T. L. Carr, of San Antonio, Texas, is visiting in Kingman. Mr. Carr was a resident of Cerbat about 1873, and also visited here about seven years ago. He is acquainted with many of the old timers of the county. Mr. Carr reports that he was one of the first men in the territory, arriving in Tubac in 1865.

L. C. Davidson, of Phenix, has been in Kingman the past few days in the interest of the history of Arizona that is soon to be issued by Miss Charlotte Hall. He found many subscribers here, giving encouragement to the work. Miss Hall is one of the most versatile of Arizona writers and her historical work is sure to be of a high standard.

Arthur Thompson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Thompson, was taken seriously ill the first of the week with an attack of pneumonia and for a time it was feared that he could not live. While he passed a rather bad night, this morning he is very much improved. The many friends of the family are hopeful that the young lad will rapidly regain his accustomed health.

Last week we neglected to mention the marriage of Charles Duncan to Miss Myrtle Stowe, the young people coming here from Hackberry to celebrate the marriage ceremony. Mr. Duncan is a well known young cattleman, while Mrs. Duncan is one of the most popular young ladies on the Santa Fe system, having for several years held down a key in the telegraphic department of the road. They were warmly congratulated by their large circle of friends in Kingman.

J. A. Carrow is quite ill at his home in Kingman.

Miss Nina Ueapner, of Mineral Park, is visiting with friends in Kingman.

J. W. Thompson has gone to Pasadena, where he will visit with his sister for a few weeks.

Stewart Thompson was called home from Los Angeles a few days ago by the serious illness of his brother.

Richardson Lamson, a member of the law firm of Anderson & Lamson, of Prescott, is in Kingman attending to legal business.

Governor Hunt's message convening the legislature in extra session, covers seventy five subjects. If the session is held by the courts to be a legal one there will be a thousand subjects brought under review of the law makers, or we miss our mark.

Ben. Reynolds, a well known miner of the McCracken section, was united in marriage, last Tuesday morning to Mrs. Eliza Hawthorne, of Needles. The ceremony was performed by Judge Krook, of the Superior Court.

Last Wednesday afternoon J. J. Putnam and Miss Louise Williams, were united in marriage. The young couple are residents of the Sandy and will have charge of the Williams ranch. They have many friends in the county that wish them long and happy married life.

Kean St. Charles, who has been assembling the concentrating plant on his Midnight mine, is in Kingman. He reports that everything is going along nicely and that within a very short time the plant will be in full operation.

C. N. Nickell returned from the east early this week and reports having purchased a large line of boots and shoes, gents furnishings, dry goods and millinery. An up-to-date milliner will be one of the features of the establishment. He expects to be open for business sometime before the first of March. The room formerly used as the Beale Cafe has been fitted up for the use of Mr. Nickell.

Orville White, the driver of the Goldroad stage line, was seriously injured by being thrown from the high wagon seat by the lurch of the vehicle going over a big rock. He fell on the back of his head on the hard ground, his collar bone being fractured and a great bump raised on the back of his head, and was otherwise injured. Just how bad his injuries are is at this time unknown. C. W. Davis went out in his automobile and brought the injured man in.

Adrian D. Girdner, a well known young man of Goldroad, died at that place Thursday night, death being due to croupous pneumonia. Dr. Cowie had been called to attend the poor fellow the night before and when he left Goldroad the sick man appeared to be in a fair way to recover. He leaves parents in Kansas. The funeral will be held tomorrow under the auspices of the local Order of Moose, at request of Needles lodge, of which he had been a member.

George Thompson who is ranching on the big Sandy, is in Kingman. He reports that many settlers are going into that country and it will be but a few years until the whole valley is settled up. One of the things that will soon become an important issue in the valley will be vested water rights. At this time it would be well for those that have resided there many years to protect their water system with a legal title. To do so it should occur to them that an irrigation district be formed and the ranches made secure in the right to use the water of the creek and other sources of water supply.

A young fellow giving the name of Jimmie Joe Brown was arrested at Kingman Thursday last on a charge of attempting to pass a fictitious check. The check was drawn on the Citizens Bank, Flagstaff, by Mitchell McBride and Co., Seligman. A wire from Mr. McBride stated that no such check was drawn by him. The face of the check, when compared with the handwriting of the prisoner, shows that the work was done by him. The check was for 42.50$, and the man tried to pass it at a number of places, but the fact that McBride was well known along the railroad evidently prevented it being worked off.

Courthouse Bonds Approved.

After furnishing further data on the bond issue of this county the board of supervisors this week were informed that the bond issue had been approved by the attorneys of the purchasers and that as soon as the bonds could be printed and signed the county would be paid the money. This will probably be sometime during the coming month. The board will soon get busy on the adoption of plans for the big structure, a number of handsome designs having been submitted from which to select a building that will be suitable to the needs of the county for many years to come.

Mohave county is the coming great mineral county of Arizona and in the selection of plans for a courthouse the board of supervisors should be governed by the growing requirements of county office room. The building should be fitted with up-to-date office furniture and fixtures and as far as possible made fireproof. To get the result careful analysis should be made of all plans submitted and the one best suited should be adopted, even though the cost may be greater than that indicated by the bond issue.

Death of Louis Davidson.

Louis Davidson, who has been a continuous resident of Mineral Park for more than forty years, died suddenly at that place last Tuesday morning. He had been ill some months ago and was brought to Kingman, where he soon improved in health and returned to his home. While it was known that he was feeble no one thought that he was in a serious condition. He was found soon after his death in an outhouse some distance from his cabin, and from the condition of the body it was the opinion of the coroner that death was due to heart failure.

Louis Davidson was born in Germany 73 years ago, coming to this country at an early age. He was naturalized in the courts at Los Angeles in 1879, the following year coming to this county, where he engaged in mining. He was one of those genial men that make close friends and excite no man to enmity.

The body was taken to Kingman, where it was held to await the wishes of the relatives, the funeral to be decided on as soon as answers are obtained to telegrams sent them.

J. F. McConnell, a miner working in the shaft of a property operated by A. T. Cornish, at Chloride, fell from the timbers into the bottom of the shaft, Tuesday afternoon last, and fractured his leg near the ankle. He had put in a round of holes in the bottom of the shaft and after loading spit the fuses and then climbed up the ladder to a point where he could pull up the shooting ladder. While doing this he slipped and fell back into the shaft. The other workmen succeeded in getting him out of the shaft before the shots went off. He was brought to Kingman and Dr. Whiteside reduced the fracture, the unfortunate man later being taken to Los Angeles by Mr. Cornish.

Thomas Graves and Barney Perkins, who went to Texas a month or two ago in pursuit of a fabulously rich copper mine, returned to Kingman yesterday. They claim that the mine is all right, but they were unable to secure it on account of the mineral laws of the Lone Star state. They report that the whole of western Texas and New Mexico is covered with an extraordinary blanket of snow. In places in New Mexico the snow has filled the canyons to a depth of forty feet, something heretofore unknown.

Philip A. Smith is quite ill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anson H. Smith, in Kingman. The ailment consists of pleurisy and asthma.

Moose Attention.

All members of Kingman Lodge L. O. O. M. No. 858 are requested to meet at their hall tomorrow at 1 p. m. for the purpose of attending the funeral of Bro. A. D. Girdner of Needles Lodge. Funeral at 2 p. m. from Van Marter & Son's Undertaking Parlor.

Now that Kingman is to have a good roads convention it should occur to Kingman people that the time was ripe to make a thorough clean up of the town by Tuesday. Bubbish of all kinds should be hauled to the dump pile and the streets made presentable.

C. E. Walker, who has the contract for the construction of the Elks Club rooms, has a large force of men at work on the building. It is expected that the work will be completed some time in March, and that the local lodge of Elks will then have one of the handsomest homes in Arizona. The interior work is fast assuming shape and by the latter part of next week all the plastering will have been done.

Cut the High Cost of Living.

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he hid it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates. H. H. Watkins.

Charles Burlock, who has doing assessment work on the Mossback group of mines, the Silver Creek section of San Francisco district, returned to Kingman this morning. He reports that in doing the work a shaft was sunk on the vein to water level, where good ore was opened. The mine is one of the big veins of the country and sampling shows it to be very valuable.

It is reported that Homer Gaddis is now on the road to complete recovery. The young man is being cared for in one of the Los Angeles hospitals and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. M. Gaddis, are giving him every attention that loving thought can devise. Their many friends in this county will be pleased to learn of the boy's favorable condition.

Henry Lovin, who has been looking after his ranch in California, returned home a few days ago. He will leave here about the first of the month for Phenix where he will join the legislative delegation, called together in special session by the governor.

John Boyle, jr., and the children were in from the Golconda mine this week.
